

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

- + Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

About Google Book Search

Google's mission is to organize the world's information and to make it universally accessible and useful. Google Book Search helps readers discover the world's books while helping authors and publishers reach new audiences. *Robert
Murdoch-Lawrance*

The death occurred at Glasgow on Thursday of Mr Robert MacLehose, of the firms of Messrs James MacLehose and Sons, publishers and booksellers, and Messrs Robert MacLehose and Company, Limited, printers. Mr MacLehose, who was in his 54th year, had been in a delicate state of health for a long period, and recently underwent a serious operation. He was held in high esteem in the city, and he took a warm interest in social and philanthropic movements. He was predeceased by his wife some years ago, and they leave no family.

Late Mr Norman MacLehose

Mr Norman MacLehose, M.B., of 4 Cranby Place, S.W., who died on August 30, at the age of 72, was a man with many friends and interests, as well as being an oculist of distinction. He was the youngest son of Mr James MacLehose, the well-known bookseller, printer, and publisher, of Glasgow, and was born on January 19, 1858. He received his early medical training at Glasgow University, and for a short time was attached to the Glasgow Children's Hospital. In the middle 'eighties he came South, and was for a while in general practice at Sevenoaks, before going to Berlin and Vienna for 18 months' preparatory to specialising in eye work. On his return to London he was attached to the Moorfields Hospital, and later he joined the staff of the Central London Ophthalmic Hospital. He acquired a considerable private practice. He leaves a widow and one son, Hamish. The younger son, Crawford, fell in the war.

Note

IT was suggested to his sons that the publications of James MacLehose, Publisher and Bookseller to the University, who till his death in 1885 took a very warm interest in the University of Glasgow, might be presented to the University Library and kept together as a memorial of him, and of his connection with the University; and Mr. James Lymburn, Librarian to the University, who made this suggestion, proposed also that the series should be continued to the present date.

It has been a pleasure to carry out this idea. The entries in the following list are copied from those in the Catalogue of the University Library, and represent 578 volumes published by the firm from 1838 to 1905. Very many of these books are now out of print, but copies of all have been procured with the exception of the seven which are marked with an asterisk.

Included in this collection is a series of 1121 Pamphlets and Prints arranged chronologically and bound in sixty volumes. These were published between the years 1838 and 1905; a large number of them relate to the University, and all were issued by the University Publishers.

Associated with the late James MacLehose, Bookseller and Publisher to the University, in the production of these books was his younger brother, Mr. Robert MacLehose, for many years Printer to the University. He retired in 1894, when his interest in the University Press passed into the hands of his nephews, Robert MacLehose and James J. MacLehose, who had already succeeded their father as Booksellers and Publishers to the University.

The engraving prefixed to this volume is from the portrait by Mr. G. Lowes Dickinson.
